Ballardvale residents are wondering at present just what good the straightening out of a section of Andover street as a W. P. A. project has done, inasmuch as several large rocks have been left on the straightened out part as shown above. Little town W. P. A. work is being done at present, most of Andover's quota being engaged in a state sidewalk job on North Main street.

Andover Red Cross Aiding By Making Clothing For Polish Refugees

A letter from the American Red Cross states:—"We have now received urgent requests from the Red Cross societies of Rumania, Hungary, Latvia and Lithuania for large quantities of warm winter clothing suitable for the relief of Polish refugees in those countries. Requests have also been received from the British and French Red Cross for certain articles of clothing.

"We have purchased here in the United States 30,000 suits of warm underwear, 10,000 pairs of heavy shoes and 5,000 heavy blankets. We have made $25,000 available to the League of Red Cross societies to purchase other items of clothing and much needed drugs and medical supplies for the immediate use of the Polish refugees.

"It is important that these supplies which have been purchased should be supplemented by warm clothing produced by our home Chapters. Obviously if these chapter-produced articles are to be distributed in Europe in time to give relief this winter, they must be shipped without great delay."

The Andover chapter has already made and is making many layettes, children's dresses, women's and children's undergarments, heavy sweaters, socks and sleeping caps. There is a further quota of 30 men's sweaters, 20 women's sweaters, 30 children's sweaters, 20 women's dresses of heavier materials and 30 girls' dresses of heavier materials. It is requested that these articles be finished by January 1.

The Red Cross rooms were opened for this work early this Fall but were later closed as church, society, school and other groups expressed a desire to take part in the work and to sew and knit in their homes or usual meeting places.

With this new quota added to the original one even more assistance is necessary.

Miss Anna Kuhn, 48 Central street, telephone 46, is in charge of the work in Andover and will be glad to give materials and instructions to any groups or individuals who wish to help.

Large Delegation At Concord Meeting

The Andover Historical Society at the meeting of the Bay State Historical League at Concord on Saturday had next to the largest delegation present, twenty-two persons. The illustrated lecture on Old New England Houses by the official photographer of the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities and the Trustees of Public Reservations was so extraordinarily good, both as an historical account and as a work of art, that the local society hopes to have it repeated here for the benefit of local artists and photographers as well as students of history.

Andover District To Meet Thursday

Miss Mary L. McClure of Fenchow, China, will be the principal speaker at the Andover District meeting of the Woman's Department Massachusetts Congregational Conference and Missionary society which will be held next Thursday at the Trinity church in Lawrence. Her address will be on "China—Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow."

Mrs. Myron T. Gutterson will conduct the conference on "Workship" which will precede the luncheon. The morning session will begin at 10:30 and the afternoon session at 2:00.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING POSSIBLE AS WEST ANDOVER WELLS GO DRY

Two Projects Now Under Consideration For Water Extensions

A special town meeting within a very few weeks seems very much of a probability at present as a number of the residents of West Andover are facing an acute situation caused by the drying up of their wells because of the present dry-spell. At present a number of them are carrying water to their farms from the dead-end on Chandler road at Garabedian's.

It is understood that the residents of the section are planning to petition for a special town meeting, they having already conferred with the selectmen, Board of Public Works and the town clerk. There are two possible projects, one an extension from the Garabedian dead-end of nearly 6000 feet which as a W P A project might cost the town around $10,400. The other is for an extension on Brund-rett avenue to the Shlakis property, costing probably $4,000. Superintendent Gilliard is studying this project today for a closer figure on costs.

It is not known at present whether there will be any other articles in the warrant if there is a meeting. To call a meeting 100 signatures are required.

The extension from Garabedian's would run along Chandler road to Sanders road and along Sanders road to Greenwood road. It is possible that a further project might be introduced for an eight inch line from the junction of High Plain road and Greenwood road to Lowell street, thus making a circuit which would provide better pressure for the area. At present when farms on the Chandler road line are using water, it is very difficult for the Garabedians on the end of the line to get any pressure at all.

The dry spell has also been felt in other parts of the town, Dick Hoyer on the by-pass having been among those reporting dry wells.

Bicycle Licenses

To Be Given Out At

Meeting Tomorrow

Andover's new bicycle safety club got off to a good start Monday night when 225 bicyclists attended the opening meeting held in the V. F. W. rooms. Of these 184 took out applications for membership and they may be returned tomorrow night at a second meeting to start at 7:15 in the post rooms at which time licenses will be given out.

A nominating committee consisting of Clifford Stowers, Arthur Manock, and John Nicoll was appointed to bring in a list of nominees to be acted on tomorrow night.

With the licenses each member will receive a numbered reflector-plate for his bike.

At the meeting Monday night the principal speakers were Police Officer Louis E. Daignault of Lawrence, chairman of the V. F. W. safety clubs, and Chief of Police George Dane who endorsed the campaign.

League To Give Tea At Poynter Home

The Andover League of Women Voters will give a tea for new members and guests who might be interested to become members, on Tuesday, October 31, Mrs. Horace M. Poynter is giving her house on School street for the occasion. Members of the League are preparing a short skit showing the League and its work, which will be presented at 3 o'clock. Tea will be served afterwards.

All members are invited who will bring a prospective member as a guest. It would be appreciated if members planning to attend would telephone Mrs. Poynter.

Guild Rummage Sale

Becomes Rag Fair

For those who have not been to the Rag Fair in Rome, just come Saturday morning to the Andover Guild House at 9:30 and you will find something akin to it. Articles of value vie with those worth little. Already upholstered chairs, nice picture frames, sofa cushions, two fur coats, show up against a background of assorted shoes and men's wear. "Rum-tiques" puzzled some inquirers so it is suggested they start with Rummage and end with Antiques. Who knows what First Editions may be found on the book table, or choice vases among the bric-a-brac?

Mrs. Henry Hopper is heading the committee in charge of the sale and her assistants now have their associates lined up. Assisting Mrs. George French at the women's dress and coat shop will be Mrs. A. G. Baldwin, Mrs. Frank Benton, Mrs. L. C. Newton and Mrs. James Toohey. Look here for the new "Better Dress Shop" and its bargains. High and low class shoes will be supervised by Mrs. Leonard James; assistants are Mrs. George Sawyer and Miss Abby Castle. Furniture and rugs are in charge of Mrs. Roscoe Dake and Mrs. Penrose Hollowell; men's suits and coats have yearly been in charge of Mrs. Charles Gabeler, with Mrs. Walen and Mrs. Donald Mac-

Attempted Rescue Results In Tragedy

Mrs. Henry J. Rand, mother of Mrs. L. C. Conner of Windsor street, Shawsheen, suffered a tragic death, last Sunday, when she attempted to save a friend from her burning home at West Southport, Maine.

When Mrs. Rand noticed the fire, which, it is alleged, started from a defective chimney, she notified neighbors and then ran back into the blazing house to rescue Mrs. Peirce, who was asleep in a first floor bedroom. Both women lost their lives.

Mrs. Rand resided with her daughter, Mrs. L. C. Conner, for some time last year and made many friends in this town.

BOYS' CLUB RAFFLE SOON

The Andover Boys' club members are working hard to put new uniforms on their basketball team. They have already sold a goodly amount of raffle tickets and the boys will demonstrate their warm appreciation by the presentation, on November 4, of a ton of coal or 200 gallons of fuel oil to the lucky winner.

The basketball team will show their appreciation by boosting last year's excellent scores.

Academy Alumni Return To See School In Actual Operation

Dr. Fuess Tells Of Democracy Development; 207 Boys Working

Several hundred Phillips academy alumni, some of them as far back as 1879 and some from as far away as Salt Lake City, gathered on Phillips Hill last Saturday to see the school in operation. From the early morning assembly to the moving pictures at night, a large number of them followed the whole student's program through, including visits to the classes, meals in Commons, and the football game.

The largest single gathering was at the noon-day luncheon when Headmaster Dr. Claude M. Fuess welcomed the returning graduates and gave an interesting talk on the scholarship situation at the academy. Later in the afternoon Dr. and Mrs. Fuess entertained the alumni at tea after they had watched an injury-stricken football team fall before a Harvard fresh team that looks good for the future of Harvard's varsity.

Abbot Stevens of the trustees presided at the luncheon. He mentioned the recent increased alumni activity in the school's interest, activity not devoted toward building up the athletic teams but more to building up the educational policy. He said there had been an increase in the total alumni contributions and in the number of contributors. The alumni day, first in many years, had its origin in the Founders' day held between 1913 and 1916, with William H. Taft and Henry L. Stimson as the principal speakers at the first assembly.

Student-Faculty Liaison

John H. Cuthbertson, president of the student council, was the first speaker. He told of the new student government plan which had been in effect over a year, but his main emphasis was on the very close relationships which now exist between student and teacher. He mentioned the social functions committee, consisting of faculty members who aid the student committee on social affairs, and he also told of the representation of the students on such faculty groups as the discipline committee.

Scott Paradise, alumni secretary, gave a brief talk in which he told of the response of alumni to the alumni day invitation.

Dr. Fuess mentioned that last year of the 707 boys in school, 213 were receiving aid and giving work in what is "by policy and by practice a great democratic school." A total of $87,529.51 was distributed throughout the year to these boys. There were 150 cash awards. Five of the 11 boys who made the honorary scholastic society, Cum Laude, were working students as were 11 of the 27 boys who received honors. This year captains of seven teams are working their way through and two members of the student council are also receiving aid in exchange for work. In the Commons at present there are 104 boys working.

Evolution of Democracy

There were three big steps which brought about the present feeling on the Hill where scholarship boys and paying boys are all on the same basis. Dr. Stearns made the first big one, when he abolished the old policy of segregating scholarship boys in two houses. A year ago the time schedule was rearranged so that even working boys could attend the morning chapel and school assemblies. The third step was the establishment of a guidance committee under Philip Allen of the faculty, an attempt being made this way to understand the problems of the boys.

Well above the school average in scholastic attainment, Dr. Fuess wants even more outstanding boys, and he urged the alumni to tell the brilliant boys in their high school classes of the opportunities Andover offers.

EDITORIAL

"I Want My Third"

"I'm not getting fair treatment on this board; I'm supposed to have a third of the appointments, but the other two members are hogging them all."

According to the daily newspapers, that is the gist of what County Commissioner C. F. Nelson Pratt of Saugus said after a recent meeting in which a purchasing agent was appointed by the commission for the sanitarium at Middleton. He was outvoted two to one, and seemed to resent the act that more often than not he was the minority member of the board.

"I'm supposed to have a third of the appointments." Can you imagine an official in our present-day so-called enlightened age harkening back over one hundred years ago to the establishment of Jackson's "Spoils System?" Can you imagine a man feeling that as one of three members he has dictatorial powers to choose one out of every three appointees? It's his patronage, he feels, and he doesn't mind saying so. There's something the voters shouldn't mind saying the next time such a man comes up for election, too.

If the County Commissioner from Saugus hasn't heard, this really is a democracy. We elect a board of three members, and in this Democracy of ours a majority rules, even on a board of three members. On some boards in some places there may be a swapping around of appointments, but Mr. Pratt picks up no votes in Andover or in Essex county by saying: "I'm supposed to have a third of the appointments." There is a possibility that such a man as Mr. Pratt may be wrong at times, and if two other men, also chosen in the prescribed way, feel that he is not voting for the best candidate for a certain position, they would certainly be violating their oath of office and the trust the public has in them by saying: "Well, we don't think he's the right man, Nelson, but it's your turn; go ahead and appoint him, and the public be damned."

He was elected by the voters, was Mr. Pratt, as he so often tells his colleagues, but there's one thing now that Mr. Pratt must remember: he wasn't elected because he had served in the House of Representatives and at one time been ejected from a hearing-room; he wasn't elected because he was once a noisy selectman in Saugus; he wasn't elected because at one time he'd go to a mill-gate and blast the rich and the next day he'd go to the rich and speak in soft, genteel tones about his party; he was elected because the ballot contained one word after his name: "Republican." And one other thing he musn't forget: Essex county Republicans have been known to forget that that word is after a candidate's name if he has disgraced the party.

Don't Forget

Don't forget:

(1) That the Community Chest Drive takes care of 13 different agencies;

(2) That these 13 agencies used to hold 13 different drives for funds, and that you were approached 13 different times.

(3) That over 1100 people in Andover benefitted last year from these agencies.

(4) That Andover wouldn't be Andover if it didn't do its proper share of contributing to these 13 agencies.

WILLARD KELLEY AT GRANGE MEETING

Andover Grange No. 182 met in Grange Hall on Tuesday evening. Preceding the regular business meeting and degree work a supper was served under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ethel Robinson. The third degree was worked by the ladies degree team under the leadership of Maude Dick. The fourth degree was worked by the regular officers.

Willard Kelley, Master of Essex County Pomona, made an address on the new 4-H Club Camp at Georgetown which the various Granges are sponsoring.

Adventurers' Stage Crew To Commence Work For Production

All carpenters of the Adventurers workshop are asked to stand in readiness for a call to active duty sometime next week. Plans have been drawn, lumber ordered and as soon as this is received work will start.

In charge of production is Geoffrey Nicoll, well remembered as the captain in "The Middle Watch." Under his capable leadership it is expected that the stage sets of "The Butter and Egg Man" will be every bit as fine as those of past performances.

The play is a comedy by George Kaufman and is being directed by Mervin E. Stevens. It will be presented on December 5.

ANDOVER BOY SERIOUSLY ILL

Friends of Scott Van Schoick Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon R. Walker, will regret to hear that he is seriously ill with pneumonia at his home on Salem street. He is very well known locally, having attended the public schools and Phillips Academy where he was a member of the varsity fencing team. He is a sophomore at Harvard this year and has continued to excel in the sport, receiving his numerals in his freshman year.

—Mrs. H. Otheman Smith and Mrs. Randall Holden, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. David M. May of 40 Washington avenue, have returned to their homes in Yonkers, N. Y., after spending a few days visiting their parents who were observing their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Auditorium Doors Daubed By Vandals

Someone, very probably from Andover, whose sense of humor apparently emanates from a moronic intellect, last Friday night painted the word "Winchester" in green paint on the white doors of Andover's auditorium, erected as a Memorial for the town's war dead. The letter "W" was also painted in several places on the auditorium steps. Janitors quickly set to work Saturday morning to clean up the mess left by the vandals.

The Winchester rooters who came here Saturday for the Punchard game and the Punchard rooters reflected none of the insanity that had possessed the daubers of the doors. Everything was quite peaceful at the game, in marked contrast to the riot at Winchester last year caused in large part by Andover rooters.

Weddings

Mrs. and Mrs. John Petrie, who were married last Saturday. Mrs. Petrie is the former Jane Wood.

Petrie-Wood

At a pretty informal wedding at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Wood of 31 School street, Miss Jane Lois Wood became the bride of John Phelps Taylor Petrie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander B. Petrie of 51 Bartlet street, Saturday afternoon. Rev. Frederick B. Noss performed the ceremony.

The home was colorfully decorated with fall flowers and foliage against which the bride's gown of viking blue made a striking contrast. She wore a corsage of Briarcliffe roses and white pompons. Her sister, Miss Mildred C. Wood of Salem, was the maid of honor and her gown was of raspberry wine. She wore a corsage of talisman roses.

Mr. Wood gave his daughter away and Alexander P. Black was the best man.

After a reception attended by the immediate families and a few close friends, the couple left for a wedding trip through the White Mountains. Their new home will be at 10½ Morton street.

Harnedy-Naiman

At a pretty fall wedding in St. Augustine's church Saturday morning, Miss Lillian Rosalie Naiman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel A. Naiman of 67 Elmwood road, Methuen, became the bride of William Augustine Harnedy, son of Mrs. William Harnedy, 24 Summer street, Rev. Thomas B. Austin, O. S. A., celebrated the mass.

Wearing a gown of heavy white bridal satin with a full court train, the bride was escorted into the church by her brother, Bruce Naiman. A coronet of seed pearls crowned her long veil of illusion and she carried a white prayer book marked with an orchid and lilies of the valley.

Miss Agnes Naiman, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and the groom's sister, Miss Anne Harnedy, was the bridesmaid. The gowns of attendants were of transparent velvet cut in princess style with matching boleros and doll hats. The maid of honor's was in luxur blue and she carried a bouquet of briarcliffe roses. The bridesmaid's gown was American Beauty and her arm bouquet was of talisman roses and delphinium.

Attorney Allan Polgreen was the best man and the ushers were Conner Lundgren, Andrew Harrington, John Cahsman and Otto Naiman. Miss Carmen St. Pierre sang several selections and Miss Annie Donovan played the organ.

After the ceremony a large reception and wedding luncheon were held at the Andover Country club after which the couple left for a trip to Washington, D. C. Upon their return, they will reside at 89 Burnham road.

The bride attended the Methuen schools and is a graduate of the Katherine Gibbs school. Mr. Harnedy attended the local schools and the Bentley School of Accounting. He is the New England manager of the Hoosac Storage and Warehouse company in Boston.

MISS PEABODY GUEST AT SHOWERS

Miss Priscilla Peabody, proprietor of the Peabody Book shop on Main street, has been guest of honor at several showers and wedding parties recently. Thursday evening, she was the guest of the choir of the First Congregational church in Methuen, and Friday evening she was tendered a surprise shower by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Henry Peabody, junior, of Saunders street, Lawrence.

Last Monday evening, Miss Doris Peabody of Dracut gave a dinner in her honor at which she received many lovely gifts. Miss Peabody will become the bride of William Watson of Highland road this evening at the First Congregational church in Methuen.

TENDERED SHOWER

Mrs. Irving Plier of Shawsheen Village was the hostess at a personal shower last week in honor of Miss Evelyn Griffiths of Lawrence. An interesting program of songs and recitations entertained the guests and a delicious supper was served.

Cooling Off

Maybe I'm having hallowe'en-ations or something, but isn't Hallowe'en October 31? Car windows already have obvious signs that celebrators are waxing eloquent and Monday night anti-Nazis went so far as to hang an effigy of Hitler from the cross wires on Shaw-sheen road...A group of young choristers who invaded the Morton street section last night seem to have the answer to these pre-views of coming distractions. Upon their offer to come in and sing for one of the residents, they were reminded that it wasn't Hallowe'en yet... "We know it," was the quick reply, "but we're just practicing."

We understand that the revived "Punch Harder" is going to pay this column a compliment by including a similar feature entitled, "Warming Up"...We haven't yet heard who the author is to be, but it's reasonable to suppose that it will be one of the baseball pitchers...warming up in a bull pen... maybe it will prove to be a better implement for writing than the Townsman's trusty tripewriter... maybe they think they can freeze us out...but we feel that cooling off in cold weather is punishment enough...besides, maybe they won't remember that it's not the heat that counts, but the humoridity...

Overheard at a local party this week was the following repartee... "Oolong have you been drinking tea?" "Oh, Formosa my life,"... we were promptly asked: "You don't intend to let that out of the paper this week, do you?" (that last was brewed in the pate of a friend who is very soon to marry a fashion artist...she loves her work so much, she's even going to marry a sketch)...and of course, we don't intend to leave it out unless the editor puts the can on it because it's dated...

Speaking of the editor, a birthday party in his honor, Monday night resulted in a treasure hunt within the boundaries of Greater Andover...the guests got quite dizzy trying to find number ten Lincoln Circle where they were to learn the route of the rest of the journey...John Grecoe got stumped on the directions and took them into Hartigan's to see if Dan could help him out, but he also agreed that there didn't seem to be any rhyme nor reason to them...The hunt was finally brought to an end before the guest of honor got lost...

When the Punchard Alums ask you to buy a ticket to the Barn dance, do not say "Neigh"...You'd better decide-er come because the stable custom of holding barn dances at Hallowe'en provides plenty of hey-heh and old-fashioned fun that you dough nut want to miss.

Punchard Alumni

Plan Barn Dance

Elaborate plans for a real old-fashioned Barn Dance are under way and the executive committee of the Punchard Alumni Association have originated some startling ideas on how to temporarily transform the Memorial Auditorium into a barn for November 11. Roger Whitcomb is to be master of ceremonies and a varied program to please all alumni will include square dances and the Paul Jones. One of the main attractions is that you can dress as you please, old clothes, costumes or latest fall fashions. Anything is acceptable and the tickets are only twenty-five cents.

The committees in charge of the arrangements are: tickets, Mrs. Madeleine Simeone; posters, Miss Evelyn Rutter; decorations, Miss Gladys Downs, Miss Dorothy Boyce, Richard Sutton and Roger Whitcomb; publicity, Joseph Doherty; refreshments, Miss Eunice Stack, Miss Everdike Thiras, and Miss Annetta Anderson.

The fun will begin at 8:00.

Wyoming Bishop

To Preach Sunday

The Right Reverend Winfred H. Ziegler, D.D., Bishop of Wyoming, and to his many friends out there a "regular fellow" comes to Christ church Sunday to give the morning sermon and at 4 in the afternoon to speak to the men of the Merrimack district who are to be every-member canvassers. C. Carleton Kimball of Christ church will also speak at this meeting.

The Bishop was received into the Arapaho Indian tribe in June 1937, his name being O-Nar-Ga The-Ar-Ku (Standing Rock).

He always carries a portable altar in his car, and when on pack trips through the mountains, his pillow in his sleeping bag is made up of his church vestments. Many are the tales of impromptu services held on ranches, in the wilderness and wherever the Bishop happened to be when time for a service came.

The American Castle, completely furnished, is a treat to see.

RECOLLECTIONS OF "PAP"

Pleasant memories of a kindly old character with a remarkable memory—"Pap" Eaton, half a century a teacher at Phillips academy and father of town treasurer Thaxter Eaton—were awakened in the minds of the academy's alumni Saturday when Dr. Fuess told of faculty conferences made interesting by "Pap's" recollection of former students.

When discussing a boy who needed a bit of disciplinary action, "Pap" would say: "Well, he's just like his father." Or if a certain student were deficient in mathematics "Pap" would recall: "His grandfather was always slow in algebra."

Mrs. Harold T. Houston became the Andover Country Club women's champion over the week-end by virtue of her final round victory over Mrs. Clarence S. Waugh, 4 and 3, in an 18-hole match. Mrs. Houston went out in 43, three less than Mrs. Waugh, and in the succeeding six holes she picked up another point for her winning margin.

In her successful quest for the title Mrs. Houston defeated Mrs. Foster Barnard 4 and 3 in the first round, Mrs. James H. Eaton 3 and 2 in the second, and Mrs. Clifford M. North 2 and 1 in the semi-finals. Mrs. Waugh entered the finals through her first-round bye, her defeat of Mrs. E. Valley 2 and 1 in the quarter-finals, and her defeat by default of Mrs. Harold Abbott in the semi-finals.

To Endeavor To Keep Punchard Goal-Line
Uncrossed In Lexington Game Saturday

Muller sweeping Winchester's end last Saturday behind excellent blocking by MacMackin and Noyes (in back). (Surette Studio)

With its goal line still uncrossed the Punchard high school team will meet the Lexington high team at the playstead Saturday in what Coach Lovely hopes will prove a breather for his boys. The Lexington team, handicapped at the start of the season by the loss of several of its best players including its captain, has struggled through an unimpressive season to date. With the establishment of the new Burlington high school, several boys who formerly had to go from the Burlington district to the Lexington high school now must attend the new school.

After Saturday's win over Winchester Coach Lovely gave his charges a couple of days' rest before he resumed hard practice yesterday.

The game will start at two. It is expected that last week's starting lineup will again start this week. It was: Lindsay lg; Renny lt; Brown lg; MacLauchlan c; Collins rg; MacMackin rt; Deyermond re; Muller qb; Haggerty lbh; Anderson rhh; Noyes fb.

Marabella and Galuffo of the Winchester team provided a scare for the Punchard team in the first period Saturday, but after they had penetrated deep into Punchard territory at the start of the second quarter, Muller pulled a Winchester pass out of the air on Punchard's five, and then the boys were off. Haggerty, Noyes and Muller tore through the Winchester line for five first downs, and then with the ball on the Winchester 30 Noyes tossed a pass to Muller who took the ball across.

The same three backs soon had the ball again on the 35 when Gus Connolly, just substituted for Anderson, took advantage of good blocking to score. George Brown paved the way for the final score when he recovered a fumble on Punchard's 48; with a variety of plays, including a Haggerty to Noyes pass, the touchdown was soon made by Noyes, with MacLauchlan making his third point after the game.

STARS AT WENTWORTH

Paul Jones of Andover, former Punchard high end, is one of the stars of this season's Wentworth Institute football eleven which is unscored upon after two games with Fore River Apprentice school and Boston University freshmen. Jones has clinched left end and played most of the 13 to 0 and 19 to 10 wins over Fore River and B. U. '43, respectively.

Snow-fence is being put up in preparation for the winter. The department has bought several plows and sand-spreaders recently.

Plan Style Show For All-Girl Band

The girls of Punchedard high school, under the direction of Miss Miriam Sweeney, director of music, have formulated plans to have an all-girl band in the high school. The idea had been heartily accepted by almost every girl at Punchedard, and now they are planning ways of earning that thousand dollars necessary for the purchase of band instruments. These instruments will become the property of the school department and will be loaned each year to worthy students.

Thursday evening, November 2, at eight o'clock, a fashion show will be held by the Punchedard girls in the Memorial auditorium to help finance their new venture. Tickets are priced at twenty-five cents and the hopeful musicians-to-be urge your whole-hearted support to their worthy cause. The advance sale of tickets has been so heavy that all who wish to attend should purchase theirs early.

WOMAN'S CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The following women were elected officers of the Woman's Club Tuesday afternoon: President, Mrs. Herbert Lewis; vice-president, Mrs. Harry Martin; secretary, Mrs. Earl Ferguson; work committee: Mrs. Ira Hill, Mrs. William Faulkner, Mrs. Harry Martin, and Miss Madeleine Hewes.

Punchedard Students Visit Perkins

A group of pupils and teachers from Punchedard high school visited the Perkins Institute and Massachusetts School for the Blind, last Thursday. Mr. Edward Manning of the Punchedard faculty, formerly employed at Perkins, was in charge of the trip.

The purpose of the institution is to provide the unusually handicapped children of New England with an education extending from kindergarten to high school. There is a special department for the deaf and blind. The students live much the same as normal young people, with their dormitories, schools, recreation and sports. The girls are taught to do housekeeping. Many of the students go on to college after they graduate.

The students who went on the trip were so enthusiastic and so interested in the work done by the teachers of Perkins that other groups are hoping to pay a visit in the near future.

The pupils who went were: Dorothy Paine, Bernice Parsons, Eleanor Gorrie, Margaret Gordon, Margaret Cargill, Constance Forsythe, Margaret Downs, Shiela Ryan, Catherine Jowett, Helen Carmichael, Priscilla Moss, Frances Reidy, Jane Guild, Helen Cargill, Pauline Dufresne, Frances Surette, and the teachers accompanying them were: Miss Mary Bailey, Miss Alice Olliff, Mr. Emil Keller and Mr. Edward C. Manning.

FOUR GENERATIONS AT FAMILY REUNION

Magee of 78 Lincoln street last Sunday when Mrs. Magee's son, George Kydd, and his son, Arthur, and his son, Donald, all of Fall River, visited their respective mother, grandmother and great-grandmother. It is always a happy occasion when the family convene and they are planning another get-together in the very near future.

Many Applicants For School Superintendent

The school committee, more particularly the sub-committee on teachers and curriculum, have had many applications from all over the state and even out of the state for the superintendent's position. Mr. Sanborn's retirement becomes effective next Wednesday. He has been unable to carry on his duties for the past month and by vote of the school committee principal Nathan C. Hamblin of the high school has been in charge. Mr. Hamblin's retirement becomes compulsory in June, 1941, but he may retire earlier, possibly next June, although he has made no definite decision as yet.

A number of the applicants have come here to interview the sub-committee members. No immediate action is planned by the committee which will probably take several months to decide this important question.

HOUSEWARMING PARTY FOR FORMER TEACHER

Students Compete In Ticket Contest

A ticket selling contest has been instituted among local students in connection with the Educational Art Exhibition to be held in the Art Studio of the Andover Junior high school from November 6 to 10. A prize will be awarded to the room selling the most tickets. In addition to this, the three children turning in the largest sum of money from the sale of tickets, prior to the opening date of the exhibition, will each receive an individual prize.

Miss Alice M. Olliff, art supervisor, in charge of the exhibit, hopes that every person purchasing a ticket will make use of it. The opportunity to see the finest reproductions of the masterpieces of great artists should be taken advantage of by everyone who can possibly visit the display. The Exhibition is indeed a worth while, educational event. The fund raised through the sale of tickets will be used to purchase pictures for the schools.

The tickets were distributed among the students on Wednesday and the sale started at the same hour throughout the town.

Historical Society Seeks Information On Early Andovers

The annual meeting of the Historical Society at eight o'clock on Monday, October 30, at the Society's home, 97 Main street, in addition to routine business, will devote itself to "Information Please." Further information is especially desired concerning a number of old pictures and houses and concerning all items which are or should be included on the Society's new-made map of the old Andovers. There will be an informal discussion of Early Andover, led by members of the Society and also by several newcomers to Andover who are reconditioning old houses.

Labrador's Grenfell

In Andover Visit

Sir Wilfred Grenfell, 74, whose name will go down in history for his medical and social missionary work among the British fishermen of Labrador and Northern Newfoundland, visited in Andover last Friday. Part of the day he spent at the farm of Edward Shattuck who has donated several cattle to Labrador in addition to urging other farmers to aid this way. Later he gave brief talks at Phillips and Abbot academies where sales were held to aid in his work. Although his activity has been somewhat curtailed by ill health, Sir Wilfred, knighted in 1927, is still maintaining a lively interest in Labrador.
